The Essay Centre will open on Monday February 1st. An outstanding amounts of applications were received this time around! Hours will be the same as last semester: Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays from 2:30 to 3:30 and Tuesdays and Thursdays from 11:30 to 12:30

Arts Peer to Peer Research Symposium:

Final applications to present are due on the 31st. We settled on February 15 to be the first day, and the two other days that week. We coordinated with the Arts Internship Office, and notably with ARIA recipients to push them to present.

Peer Tutoring:

Final applications have been received, and I coordinated with the VP Finance to allocate the funds for the semester. Please remind your VP Academics to have all tutors sign the integrity agreements and to bring them to the AUS office as soon as possible!

Arts Student Employment Fund:

The application has been released across campus with a deadline of Friday, February 19th. If you are involved with a unit that might want to hire an Arts student this summer, let me know before the deadline

AUS-Library Partnership Committee:

Next meeting is Friday the 29th of January. Because of McMUN I will not be able to make it to the meeting, so President Greenspon will take over for me. I then draft the application before the AUIF meets on February 2nd.

Academic Affairs Committee:

We met on Monday the 18th to discuss our plans for the advising application. Initially we were going to have every member of the AAC go and meet with various departments but instead I have emailed departmental VP Academics to take care of the task themselves. The AAC will take care of the remaining departments to go over. Please remind your VP Academics to take a thorough read at the email!

Curriculum Committee:

Meeting on Monday 25th, will report orally.

Faculty of Arts Meeting:

Meeting on Tuesday 26th, will report orally.

Departmental Academic Roundtable:

Will be held either on Thursday or Friday between 5 to 6. VP Academics will be informed soon.
