General Updates

- Winter is coming! If you're still looking for a place to leave your winter coat or your heavy textbooks, fret not, MUGS has you covered! We still have lockers in Burnside basement for Geography major and minor students free of charge, and for $10 to non-geography students for the year. People interested should send an email at mcgillgeography@gmail.com.

Events, Projects, and Opportunities

- Our famous annual apartment crawl is back! Take a break of studying or come celebrate the end of midterms with MUGS this Friday, November 2nd, as we revisit our favourite 200-level geography classes.
 - Tickets are $10 for Geography students and $15 for non-Geography students. Come find us in our lounge (BH 305) between 10:00am and 4:00pm on Monday or between 10:00am and 5:00pm on Tuesday and Wednesday to get your ticket.
- OMG McGill held its first Mapping Party of the year on October 23rd. Although turnout was a bit lower than expected, we still were able to map around 30 entrances and enjoyed some delicious pizza. Thanks to everyone who came!
- MUGS and SUMS battled it out on the race track on October 19th as some of us took a break from studying to take part in our Mario Kart event. Loads of fun for everyone there, we are looking at possibly holding a similar event in the near future, stay tune!
- Free GIC Workshops are offered to McGill students on Thursdays. Please make sure to register on <http://gic.geog.mcgill.ca/2018-19-workshops/> as places are limited. Here are the next two workshops:
 - Thursday, November 1st: "Geo-spatial data science in Python" presented by Jeffery Sauer from 2:30pm to 5h15pm in BH 511.
 - Thursday, November 8th: "Building WebMaps with ArcGIS Online" presented by Ruilan Shi from 2:30pm to 4h45pm in BH 511.
